DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. The liquid phase carrier according to claim 1 of formula Ia. This is classifiable in class 544, 546 or 549, subclass, various
- II. The liquid phase carrier according to claim 1 of formula Ib. This is classifiable in class 534, subclass, various
- III. The liquid phase carrier according to claim 1 of formula Ic. This is classifiable in class 544, 546 or 549, subclass, various
- IV. The liquid phase carrier according to claim 1 of formula Id. This is classifiable in class 544, 546 or 549, subclass, various
- V. The liquid phase carrier according to claim 1 of formulae Ie and If. This is classifiable in class 536, subclass, various
- VI. The method according to claims 33-42 and 47. These claims are drawn to a method classifiable in class 568.
- VII. The method according to claims 48-49. These claims are drawn to a method classifiable in class 568.

Inventions in Group I-V and Group VI-VII are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the process as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product such as biopolymers using liquid phase carriers.

The inventions of Groups I-VII are separate and patentably distinct because there is no patentable co-action among them and a reference anticipating one member will not render another obvious.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and different classification, a search of the three groups designated above would impose an undue burden upon the examiner, and restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is requested to elect a specifically disclosed species of the invention to be examined for search purposes.

A telephone call was made to David Hall on October 20, 2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
